

INSOL Expands its Asia Advisory Council

Six new members have been welcomed to INSOL International's Asia Advisory Council. The Council now represents the region more widely with a total of 13 representatives from a variety of insolvency and restructuring professions as well as external organisations, spread across the entirety of Asia.

INSOL International is proud to represent a truly global membership, from 44 member associations around the world. Ancillary groups, focus groups, committees, boards and councils of enormous breadth come together to ensure that the complexity and diversity of the industry is thoroughly represented in a collaborative and cohesive manner. INSOL's Asia Advisory Council is a vital part of this interconnecting web of multiple facets, as the Council ensures the region's specific requirements and issues are addressed through building and strengthening connections between practitioners with other organisations, stakeholders and regional governments.

The six newest additions to the Council are;

Chiyong Rim, Kim & Chang, Korea
Dinkar Venkatasubramanian, EY, India
Yuri Sugano, Nishimura & Asahi, Japan
Lingqi Wang, Fangda Partners, PRC
Look Chan Ho, Des Voeux Chambers, Hong Kong
Geoff Simms, AJ Capital, Indonesia

These six individuals join seven existing members of the Council;

Scott Atkins (Chair), President, INSOL International
Jason Baxter, CEO, INSOL International
Clare Wee, Regional Head of Asia, INSOL International
Mahesh Uttamchandani, World Bank Group
Meiyen Tan, Oon & Bazul, Singapore / Malaysia
Jane Jiang, Allen & Overy, PRC
Tiffany Wong, Alvarez & Marsal, Hong Kong

Scott Atkins, Chair of the Asia Advisory Council and President of INSOL International said "This reconstitution of the Asia Advisory Council reflects INSOL's deep commitment and clear focus in the Asia-Pacific region. It is in this region that we are seeing some of the most transformative restructuring and insolvency legal reforms, policy developments and enhanced cross-border cooperation in the world.

The reconstituted Asia Advisory Council will now lead the way in forging closer and deeper partnerships and collaborations for INSOL in the region and advancing INSOL International's leadership and impact on law and policy reform and capacity building in the years ahead. This is a truly exciting and invigorating period for our organisation and all of our members"

Jason Baxter, existing member of the Asia Advisory Council and CEO of INSOL International said "The Asia Advisory council has been instrumental in steering the direction of the Asia Hub and developing initiatives that provide value to members. The new additions to the Council will enhance our coverage in the region and I look forward to working with them to further improve INSOL's profile through its activities."
